Quarter-cent tax proposed on 4 bridges

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

A tax, drop tolls and form a bridge commission, were among recommendations Wednesday by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Bridge Committee.

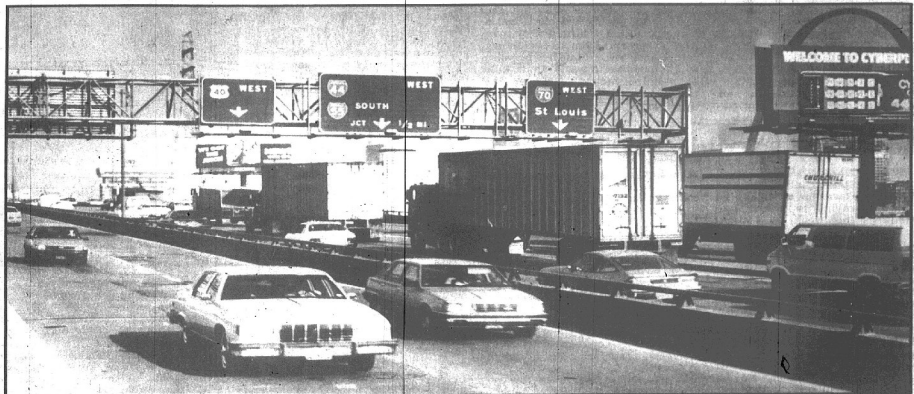

A quarter-cent sales tax and an interstate bridge commission to acquire, operate and maintain four Illinois-St. Louis bridges are proposed to stop area bridge deterioration and traffic problems. The recommendations were accepted by the council in St. Louis.

DR. EARL LAZERSON, chairman of the bridge committee and president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said the report recommends an interstate bridge commission be established to own, operate and maintain the Eads, Martin Luther King Jr., McKinley and McKinley bridges. The committee's establishment, he noted, would require action by the Illinois and Missouri legislatures and the U.S. Congress.

If established, the commission should have the power to impose a quarter-cent sales tax in Madison and St. Clair counties, the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County. The commission, Lazer son said, would operate on a $12 million annual budget.

Lazer son said the sales tax would allow elimination of tolls collected on the Eads, Martin Luther King Jr., and McKinley bridges.

THE REPORT further recommends the bridge commission be comprised of two members appointed by the mayor of St. Louis, two members appointed by the county executive of St. Louis County, two members appointed by the Madison County Board chairman, one of whom would be a resident of Venice; two members appointed by the St. Clair County Board chairman, one of whom would be an East St. Louis resident; one member each appointed by the Illinois and Missouri governors.

CROWDED CONDITIONS on the Poplar Street Bridge are only going to get worse unless long-term commitments are forthcoming from private and government entities on both sides

As for physical improvements, the report recommended the Eads, Martin Luther King Jr., McKinley and Poplar Street bridges be renovated, maintained and operated as a system.

The committee rejected construction of an additional bridge across the Mississippi River at this time. Lazer son said the committee does not see a need for another bridge for another 15 to 20 years.

AS AN IMMEDIATE step, Lazer son proposed an interim bridge committee be appointed to push for legislation for a interstate bridge commission and to implement a public information campaign "with regard to the full scope of the down-

School District 9 'kicks the habit' for GCHS freshmen

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

Freshmen at Granite City High School will not be permitted to smoke at school next year.

The school board voted 4-3 Tuesday night to "phase out" smoking by prohibiting at the high school by prohibiting smoking by freshmen in 1985-86. The next year, freshmen and sophomores will not be allowed to smoke.

The plan calls for no smoking by any student by the 1988-89 school year.

At the June 4 meeting, the board had indicated it might ban smoking entirely at the high school as early as next year. But it was decided to hold on the issue until the board's policy committee could study the matter further.

Board President Kelly Hogan suggested the plan of phasing out smoking to David Partney, policy committee chairman, and it was Hogan who ultimately cast the deciding vote on the new policy.

"I see no problems with coming up with some modifications in this three-year system," Hogan said. "I don't see any welfare gained by the students by allowing them to smoke. Alcohol is also a problem going around these days, but I hope we never consider opening a bar or a drinking area at the school because of that problem."

"I don't think we should be condoning smoking by our students," board member Alan Crider said. "And by providing a smoking area for them, that's what we are doing now."

Currently, students who wish to smoke are allowed to do so in a certain area on the south side of the campus.

"I think we could take it one step at a time," said Tom Minsky, who voted against the plan. "We could probably come up with some modifications to the current policy."

Shirley Stoll, president of the Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743, said a survey of high school teachers indicated that 75 percent of those responding were in favor of keeping the smoking area.

"Most of them felt it was better than the old days, when we had smoke-filled restrooms," Stoll said. "One teacher said he resented the fact he might have to give up time after school, he could be spending helping a student to go patrol the restrooms."

"And we have checked with other school districts in the area and it seems that Granite City has the strictest rules on smoking. Many other districts allow the students to smoke on campus. But we are concerned with the problem, too."

Gilbert Walmsey, principal at the high school, agreed with Stoll.

We do probably make more of an effort to obtain parental permission for kids to smoke," he said.

Another problem Walmsey said was a "sore spot" was the cleanliness of the smoking area.

"That is a slag-covered area," he said. "And when it rains it gets awfully muddy. Another area would probably be better. The dirtiness there is not a student-originated problem. The area is poor at best."

Hogan, in response to the teacher survey, asked Stoll if it was made clear to teachers that they would not be solely responsible for policing the new policy.

"We never said the teachers would be the only ones," he said.

He indicated there might be a need for another monitor or two at the high school.

"I'm concerned because right now 85 percent of the students aren't bothered at all by the policy," Walmsey said. "They don't smoke and the smoke isn't in the restrooms. I don't know if this might create a problem for them."

Walmsey said the student council has indicated it would like to keep the smoking area.

"I think this plan has merit," Partney said. "I don't think the seventh and eighth graders will be missing anything because they haven't had the privilege anyway. I don't think the kids should be allowed to smoke in school, and I hope we can phase it out by transition."

Maryland Plaza fire might have been avoided, Holder says

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

A fire that destroyed seven businesses at Maryland Plaza last Sunday might have been avoided, according to Fire Chief Joe Holder.

The chief said it might have been avoided if fire codes were followed. However, building manager Larry Burton said the fire's severity might have been reduced by a quicker fire department response.

HOLDER SAID the building's owner, Granite Investment Inc., had been cited for at least five fire code violations, but had failed to remedy the problems.

Holder said one of the things suggested was the placement of fire stopping material, which could have prevented a fire from spreading.

If they would have complied with this, the building might still be there," he said.

AFTER THE violations were cited, Jim Green, a general partner in Granite Investment Co., asked for an investigation concerning the violations. According to Earl Hessley, public information director of the State Fire Marshall's Office, Green requested an opportunity to respond to the citations at the hearing, and as a result a deadline to adhere with the fire codes was not set.

Hessley said a written response was never received from Green.

Hessley said other violations noted by the fire marshal's office included no fireproof material between the furnace room and other areas of the building, the junction box wiring was defective, combustible material was present in the exit areas, and the exit door did not open out.

NONE OF THE violations is believed to have caused the fire.

Enterprise zone OK'd

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

Hopes for new jobs and businesses, and retention of present jobs and businesses got a boost this morning.

At press time came the announcement that the Tri-City Area Enterprise Zone application was approved by Gov. James Thompson.

TODAY at 10:30 a.m. area officials were to meet at the Tri-Cities Area Regional Port District to receive the official announcement.

The area's enterprise zone consists of a 9.75-square-mile area taking in much of Granite City, Madison, Venice and all of the port district.

The Illinois Enterprise Zone Act was initiated to provide incentives for development in economically depressed areas. Within the zone, area city governments, park districts, school districts and other taxing bodies have agreed to provide tax abatements for new and expanding businesses within the zone area.

AMONG INCENTIVES provided by the zone are:

- Property tax abatements on improvements made within the zone;
- State and local tax credit or refunds on building materials used to expand or remodel property in the zone;
- State investment tax credit of 0.5 percent on new investments;
- Modification of zoning, licensing and building codes; and
- To $100 million in revenue bonds has been issued for use in the state's zones by the Illinois Industrial Development Authority.

THIS AREA's zone application was made in cooperation with Madison County.

FREE TIME. Thanks to action by Granite City aldermen Tuesday night, downtown shoppers will soon be able to park for free. An ordinance to remove the parking meters will be brought in next month.

Meter's time expires for downtown users

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

Shoppers in downtown Granite City will soon be able to park for free.

The City Council approved a motion Tuesday night to take the parking meters out of 14 blocks in the downtown area.

THOSE SECTIONS of streets affected are the 1800 and 1900 blocks of Delmar Avenue, Edison Avenue and State Street, 19th Street from Madison Avenue to Cleveland Boulevard and the south side of the street on Niedringhaus, from Cleveland Boulevard to Grand Avenue.

Alderman Sharon Perjak, 4th Ward, led the council action. Perjak originally suggested all of the parking meters be removed except those surrounding St. Elizabeth Medical Center. She amended her motion when several aldermen objected to the removal of parking meters around City Hall.

Perjak brought in the motion because of a petition signed by downtown merchants and businessmen. She said that every business owner in the downtown area signed the petition to have the parking meters removed.

AFTER THE meeting, City Attorney Mark Goldenberg said aldermen must now approve an ordinance to take out the meters before they will actually be taken down.

Perjak said she will not suggest signs be posted limiting the amount of time a patron can park in a space.

The lack of action concerning the posting of signs resulted in two of the three no votes from aldermen.

ALDERMAN MICHAEL Modrusie, 7th Ward, was concerned that some persons may park in the free spots all day. He asked that council members wait until two-hour parking signs could be posted before removing the meters.

In the meantime, he said the city should place bags over the meters to see how the proposition would work on a trial basis.

Perjak was against the suggestion since bags are routinely placed over the meters during the holiday season and this has not worked out.

"WHAT HAPPENS is that some of the bags get blown or torn off and in some cases, the shoppers lift up the bag and put money in the meter anyway," Perjak said.

First Ward Alderman Everett Morlen was against removing the meters because he said it would create problems for the merchants and the police department.

"You can take them (parking meters) out, but I'll bet the merchants will be hollering for a policeman to come down and mark the tires on some of the cars," he said.

"And the police say they don't have enough men to patrol these areas."

THE OTHER objection to the motion came from 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Fisk.

"I'm not opposed to removing the meters," he said. "It's just that we're too close to hiring a coordinator for the city. I think we should wait and consult with him and get his input on this."

Aldermen voting to remove the meters were Sam Whitmer, Pat Schuman, Casmer Skubish, Perjak, Jake Varadian, Lloyd Bailey, Phillip Miller, Woody Moud, Brett Frank, Judy Whitaker and Jeff Worthen.

ACCORDING TO City Comptroller Joe Mikovic, the parking meters brought in $18,812 in city revenue last year from the coins collected. Parking meters also provided an undetermined amount of money to the city from fines.

Seatbelt law goes into effect July 1

Illinois State Police Superintendent L. Nargelinas has urged the public to consider the importance of the seatbelt law scheduled to become effective July 1. In remarks during a news conference, Nargelinas emphasized a positive approach.

"I am encouraged by recent survey results which indicate Illinois motorists are already above the national average in the use of seatbelts. If we can reach a minimum of 54 percent compliance, we can project an immediate reduction in traffic fatalities," he said.

That immediate reduction translates to approximately 325 lives saved the first year. In addition, 34,000 injuries can be avoided and $437 million can be saved by the citizens of Illinois, Nargelinas contended.

When New York's mandatory seatbelt law went into effect, the state experienced a 30 percent reduction in traffic fatalities during the first three months, along with similar reductions of injuries, he noted.

"The reduction in traffic deaths and injuries is our primary concern," stated Nargelinas. "Our primary purpose is reducing the severity of motor vehicle crashes and promoting traffic safety. We would rather promote voluntary compliance toward this law because of its positive aspects than take enforcement action; however, we will enforce the seatbelt law when necessary."

The requirements of the new seat belt law and its exceptions are as follows:

Section 12-603.1 of the Illinois Vehicle Code states that:

(a) Each driver and front seat passenger of a motor vehicle operated on a street or highway in this state shall wear a properly adjusted and fastened seat safety belt except that a child less than 6 years of age shall be protected as required pursuant to the Child Passenger Protection Act. Each driver of a motor vehicle transporting a child 6 years of age or more, but less than 16 years of age, in the front seat of the motor vehicle shall secure the child in a properly adjusted and fastened seat belt.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to any of the following:

1. A driver or passenger frequently stopping and leaving the vehicle between stops and not exceeding 15 miles per hour.

2. A driver or passenger possessing a written statement from a physician that he is unable for medical or physical reasons to wear a seat belt.

3. A driver or passenger possessing a certificate or license endorsement issued by the Motor Vehicle Division or a similar agency in another state or county indicating that the driver is unable for medical, physical or other valid reasons to wear a seat belt.

4. A driver operating a motor vehicle in reverse, a motor vehicle manufactured before Jan. 1, 1965, a motorcycle or motorcycycle, a moped, a motor vehicle which is not required to be equipped with seatbelts under federal law and a motor vehicle operated by a rural letter carrier of the United States postal service while performing his or her duties as a rural letter carrier.

(c) Failure to wear a seatbelt in violation of this section shall not be considered evidence of negligence, shall not limit the liability of an insurer, and shall not diminish any recovery for damages arising out of the ownership, maintenance or operation of a motor vehicle.

(d) A violation of this section shall be a petty offense and subject to a fine not to exceed $25.

Superintendent Nargelinas said it will be the policy of the Illinois State Police to issue warning tickets for the first 30 days this new law is in effect.

"This will give motorists time to acclimate themselves to the new law and its requirements," according to Nargelinas, the enforcement of the seatbelt law will be as a secondary action after the driver of a vehicle has been stopped for another offense.

Mosquito spraying to begin

By SUSANNE INDELCATO

St. Louis Township officials plan to begin spraying to exterminate mosquitoes this week, it was announced during the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees meeting Monday.

In other announcements, Nameoki Township Collector Steve Isenburgh said he has collected and distributed $200,000 in real estate taxes through June 17, the deadline for payment of the first installment of property taxes.

The trustees ratified the appointment of Delberta Orr and Thelma Orr to the Cloverleaf-East Madison Fire District Board. Delberta Orr will serve a two-year term, while Thelma Orr will serve a three-year term. The two were sworn in following Monday's meeting.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs announced the Citizens Committee was to meet at 7 p.m.

Granite City BPW members attend leadership project

Members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's organization were among 327 registered women attending the Southern Leadership Conference of the Illinois Federation.

The event was conducted at Ramada Inn in Mount Vernon, Ill., and the theme for the session was "BPW on the Move," with the 1985 focus on "Issues and Management."

The conference was hosted by District XVII with Sue Doolen, district director, presiding. Annabel Woodring of Collinsville, state president, stressed the four points of issues management for the forthcoming year.

In conclusion, she urged the participants to seek new members for the organization, remembering that the organization was founded on "women helping women."

Each workshop was designed to "promote full participation in work force equity," and "reestablish self-sufficiency for America's working women."

Keynote speaker for the afternoon session was Dr. Lillian Greshhouse, professor at SIU-Carbondale, who spoke on the subject, "Not Now, I've Got a Headache." She outlined three categories people sometimes fall into as a working woman, and added that all need to set goals, outline what they want to achieve and look for positive attitudes.

Those attending were club President Becky Slate, Pauline Weir, public relations chairman, Rose Harris and Sunshine Scruggs, legislative; Helene Bischoff, treasurer; Jeanne Hornberger, program; Annellen Smith and Rosalie Stern, membership; Sylvia Wright, finance; and Lil Marzluf, foundation.

Program offers support in solving parent-child conflicts

The Parent Resource Program, offered by Family Resources Inc., 407 E. Main St., Collinsville, will begin in July offering support services to parents, married or single, who are having difficulty dealing with their children day-to-day in a healthy, positive manner.

Parents with children between the ages of 2 and 18 are urged to contact the Parent Resource Program if problems of child care in the areas of discipline and communication are causing stress and frequent disruptions in the family.

Weekly parent enrichment sessions will provide training in child management and coping skills. Topics to be discussed are "Communication and its relationship to self-esteem," "Managing Angry Feelings" and "Behavior Management." Parents are encouraged to share and receive support in their parenting concerns and to practice the parenting skills on a daily basis. A home visitation program will provide outreach services to parents participating in the parent enrichment groups, as well as to those parents whose children do not meet the age criteria for the parent enrichment groups. Parent visits will visit parents bi-weekly to provide support and reinforcement of parenting skills, and to cover parenting topics according to the needs of the family.

Child enrichment activities will be provided during the parent enrichment groups. These activities will aim to enhance age appropriate cognitive, psychological and social development. Infant care will also be provided.

A Parent-Help Line will be open on a continual 24-hour basis. Parents experiencing parent-child conflict may call at any time to receive suggestions for relieving the crisis.

All services are free of charge to the public. Funding has been provided through the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, Child Abuse Prevention Fund.

Transportation will be available. Interested parents may contact Martha at 345-7732.

Officials warn of hazards from fireworks

The fireworks that are so much a part of the celebration of our nation's founding are a more serious problem than most people realize.

Eye injuries alone doubled in Illinois in 1984 over 1983, according to Edgar T. Britton, executive director, Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. And all kinds of injuries from fireworks have doubled since 1975, according to the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Burns, lacerations and abrasions are the most common injuries caused by fireworks, but severe burns, blindness and amputations also can result from the use of the gunpowder explosives.

In Illinois last summer, three people lost eyes, seven suffered third degree burns and nine more people lost body parts in amputations because of fireworks, officials said.

The largest number of injuries (35 percent) are to the hands; the next largest (20 percent) are to the eyes. Twelve people suffered ear injuries serious enough to require medical attention last summer.

The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is leading a coalition of 13 other organizations with similar interests in safety in a public education program to alert adults and children to the dangers of fireworks.

Males are three times as likely to be injured as females, and 10 to 19 year olds suffered 40 percent of all fireworks injuries. Children under 10 and adults from 20 to 29 are the next most vulnerable — both groups accounting for about half of all the injuries to the eyes, as well as other parts of the body, officials noted. Age is no protection. Last year five people, 70 to 90 years old, were counted among the injured.

Sparklers, which are legal in Illinois, are especially dangerous because they are often assumed to be harmless. The searing waves sputter sparks and burn at 1800 degrees. They are especially attractive to children and are more likely to be handled and waved about dangerously, officials said.

There is a general ban on fireworks for private use in Illinois, but even professionally produced fireworks displays can be hazardous because of floating ashes and burning debris falling from the sky.

Organizations working with the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness in the public awareness program are the Chicago Fire Department, Chicago Hospital Council, Chicago Medical Society, Chicago ophthalmological Society, Chicago Police Department, Chicago Region PTA, Illinois Chapter of American College of Emergency Physicians, Illinois College of Optometry, Illinois Hospital Association, Illinois Optometric Association, Illinois State Fire Marshall, Illinois State PTA and Prehospital Care Providers of Illinois Inc.

The ISPBS was founded in 1916 to prevent needless blindness. It is dedicated to the care, protection and preservation of sight. Its programs stress education and information.

Should Price continue to serve?

Drop Mel Price?

Turn our backs on a man who has dedicated his life to public service?

An editorial in an area daily newspaper recently advised "Mel Price Should Retire or Be Retired."

That's poor advice.

Price, at 80, is old. What a startling revelation.

The people on this side of the river have had the pleasure of watching Price work tirelessly in their behalf for more than 40 years. We know he's old.

Congressional Quarterly called Price "feeble."

Reached about two weeks ago, Price was certainly not feeble. He graciously accepted a call from his newspaper, not at his office, but in the privacy of his home.

He answered questions congenially, intelligently. Yes, he said, he plans to run for his 22nd term.

That's the kind of person Price is — down to earth, willing to help people.

Price lost his chairmanship on the House Armed Services Committee, the editorial noted. Yes, by a few votes. He retained chairmanship of the powerful research and development subcommittee. That wasn't in the editorial.

Politically wise, serving in his 21st term, Price was sublime, not bitter, after losing his chairmanship early this year.

"After all this time you get used to anything that happens in politics. I will still be active on the committee and active in the House."

He added, "I had no problems at all running the committee. We got legislation through on schedule. I don't know of any bill we ever lost on the floor."

The editorial suggests the 21st District has paid its debt to its congressional congressman.

That's doubtful.

Price has never said the district owes him anything.

If the people feel they owe a debt to Mel Price it's because he's helped them. He's not only worked to keep Scott Air Force Base a powerful employment base in this financially strapped pocket of the nation, but there are scores of Metro-East residents who can personally attest that Price has helped them with their problems.

If there's a way to help, Price provides. Mel Price should be retired?

And by whom will he be replaced?

Which St. Clair or Madison county Democrat will wield the power of Price?

Few could stand up to him in the primary — a primary that could divide the party if it means a challenge to Price.

And it's doubtful that anyone could serve as well as Price until that person gets at least a term or two under his belt.

Price, at 80, is still twice the people's representative that most newcomers half his age could ever hope to be.

Chicago's boondoggle bombs

Downstate Illinois can breathe a little easier.

So can the rest of the state. For that matter, the rest of the country.

The 1992 Chicago World's Fair will not happen. Millions of dollars, taxpayers' dollars, will not be poured into Chicago for a project that had no chance of success.

Gov. James Thompson and legislative leaders last week announced there is not enough support for the project. Had they realized earlier that the fair was not going to happen, the General Assembly wouldn't have voted last year to spend $8 million on planning.

The need to drop the fair was obvious. There was little support for it.

A few months ago, a Chicago alderman was in the area complaining about the fair because it had no chance for success.

Last week, House Speaker Michael Madigan, D-

Chicago, said only nine House Democrats backed continued funding for the project.

An advisory committee investigating the proposed fair concluded it to be an "excessively risky business."

Estimates, unbelievably, were that 80 percent of the people in the Metro-East area and other areas within 300 miles of the fair would attend.

The majority of people in Granite City, East St. Louis, Cahokia, Dupont and elsewhere in this area would not have attended the fair — many simply don't have money for an expensive trip. But their state tax dollars would have gone to the fair anyway if the state's political leaders hadn't looked finally, realistically, at the project.

Fortunately, downstate tax dollars won't be thrown to the wind in the Windy City.

CF Bike-A-Thon gets good response

To the Editor:

In these days of budget cutting and inflation, it is great to see that the citizens of Granite City still give to those in need, as was shown by their tremendous response to the Cystic Fibrosis (CF) Bike-A-Thon which was sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees.

Twenty-four volunteers rode their bicycles to raise approximately $815 for CF victims. These funds will be used to support research, patient care and education programs aimed at finding a cure for CF.

While there is no cure for CF, with the continued dedication and hard work of individuals like those who participated in the Bike-A-Thon and those who volunteered their time and assistance, we will find the answer to this tragic and life-threatening disease. Specifically, I would like to thank Nestle, Corral Liquors in Granite City, Veeal Inc. and McDonald's for donating cups and lemonade. Also, I would like to thank the Granite City House of Trophies for donating the trophies, the St. Louis Area Support Center for allowing us to use their grounds for the Bike-A-Thon, and Wilson Construction Co. for lending us thermos jugs.

On behalf of CF victims, their families and the CF Foundation, thank you for your support.

Resident concerned over 'silver glitter'

To the Editor:

I am a little upset today. About 9:45 a.m. I can vividly remember the pictures of cars covered with the particles were published also. At that time I had not seen the glitter myself. Now that I have, I am worried about what effect this could have on my family's health. I would like to know what is being done to take care of this problem. I am not the only one who is concerned.

Early Childhood Program is praised

To the Editor:

As a "foster" grandparent of a foster child 5 years old, I want to commend Mrs. Cindy Mills and Mrs. Shirley Mosby individually and the Early Childhood program as a whole. It is part of the Special Education program of School District 9.

Through this program and these two dedicated, caring ladies I have watched this child, who at three years of age was classified as a vegetable, become a functioning person ready for kindergarten next fall.

This teacher and teacher's aide are certainly not in this for the money only; they have worked with this child in an above and beyond the call of duty manner, striving to bring her to her fullest potential. Thank you, Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Mosby, for caring and sharing these past two years.

Hartigan's office helps senior citizens

To the Editor:

Attorney General Neil Hartigan's Granite City office is a big help to seniors who otherwise couldn't get the help they need.

I am not a senior citizen but had cause to seek the help of this office. A relative was a patient at a nursing home care center for two years, until becoming ill and going to hospital.

On May 6, she was hospitalized; on May 8, the nursing home said she would not be returning there, as they had given her room to someone else. The doctor dismissed her May 14 to return to the nursing home, but was told she would have to get on a list, which could be from three days to an unknown period of time.

She has Alzheimer's disease. She is on Social Security, Railroad Retirement and Medicaid.

I contacted the new attorney general office in Granite City and found a very warm reception. Andy Rapoff took my complaint, made numerous calls to Springfield and kept in contact with me as to what transpired. I can't thank the staff enough.

Mr. Ginter in the Springfield office informed me there is a bill in Congress, House Bill 1410, which would make it compulsory for nursing homes to keep a patient's bed for 30 days.

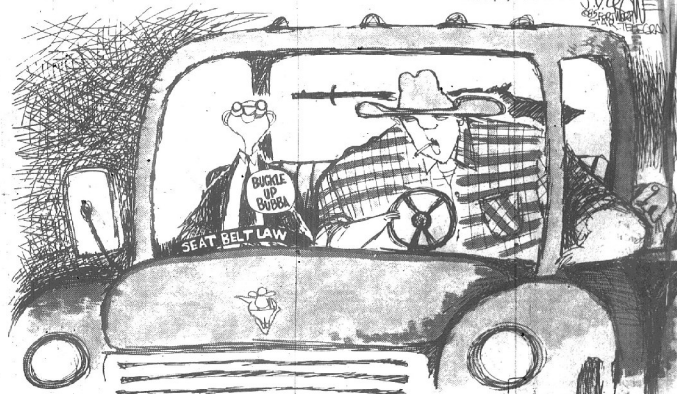

Seniors, please write your senators and congressmen and urge them to vote for this bill. Maybe someday you might find yourself in need of it.

My relative's Social Security and Railroad Retirement money went to the nursing home May 3; she was kicked out May 8. After much trauma to the family and many calls from the attorney general's office, she was accepted back at the nursing home.

A hospital social worker said the family would be responsible for the additional days she stayed at the hospital because the nursing home would not take her. What are seniors to do when they can't help themselves?

It's time we get some laws in effect to protect our elderly, because someday we will all be seniors.

New seat belt law

Visitors to the Granite City Post Office Wednesday were asked if they plan to comply with the new mandatory seat belt law which goes into effect on Monday, July 1. Their comments follow.

John Reiske, Granite City

"I hate to, but I guess I have to. I'm not in favor of it, of course they say it saves lives."

Andy Batson, Granite City

"No, not really. I think it stinks, personally. I'll risk paying the fine."

Rachel Coleman, Granite City

"Yes, I have been. I started when I got a small compact car because they're not very safe."

Wilma Rice, Granite City

"I imagine I'll abide by it. I really think it's a good law, but a lot of people are against it because of instances like the one last week when a man couldn't get his wife out of their burning car because she was wearing a seat belt."

American flag faces good, bad times

To the Editor:

There is good news and the bad about American flag. The good news is that Madison Avenue will be lined up with an array of about 90 American flags due to Fire Chief Joe Holder acquiring some donations to purchase "Ole Glory" for the firemen to display the flags on patriotic occasions. There are 135 poles on the avenue.

It would be a lasting memento if some civic organization would donate the money for the "flags for the overpass" downtown. There is a ring with five holders that attaches to the aluminum poles, which would give the poles and the flags an eye appealing sight. For the 12 light poles to be thus enhanced with the flags would be a gratifying deed for the civic organization that donated the funds.

The bad news... a rash of thefts of "Ole Glory" has been taking place in the city. Recently a large four by six foot flag was taken by climbing up on a roof of a building and the pole bent and the flag taken. Also, one fast food franchise lost a new large flag in Madison and another in this city, as well as our state's attorney office. One businessman and a Vietnam veteran lost three flags and a pole to vandals. He recently purchased a beautiful flag with fringe for inside of his office. He will not be deterred by theft.

It is bewildering to know of these thefts. What do the people do with the flags. It is shameful and a disgrace for this kind of vandalism that continues in this city repeatedly. Individuals even climb up on cars of trucks and pull out the flags on the avenue.

Have a patriotic and happy July 4th. It's your flag and your country. Display it with pride in America. One of the most bewildering statements I ever heard was from a person who said, "It is too much trouble to put up and take down a flag is the reason I don't have an American flag." I am sure the men under the little white crosses didn't think that way and would be totally disenchanted after they died for their country and their flag to hear such a statement about "Ole Glory."

Rest assured we are in real trouble if people think that way.

Granite City worker says raises due

To the Editor:

The City of Granite City is a corporation, a business. Its business is to serve the public.

We have the police department to protect our homes from thieves, protect us from drunken drivers, protect our families in time of family arguments. They have done a good job!

We have the fire department to protect our homes from being destroyed by fire. With their "jaws of life," they extricate critically wounded accident victims, from mangled cars, hoping to save their lives. They have done a good job!

We have the ambulance department, which is becoming better with each passing day in saving lives of heart attack victims, accident victims, and numerous other traumas. They have done a good job!

We have the sewage treatment plant department which tries to keep our people safe from toxins and contamination in the water and sewage systems. They have done a good job!

We have the humane department, which also is understaffed, and does a job no one likes to do, but must be done. They protect our children by picking up stray animals that have been neglected, discarded, abandoned and unfed; may they're sick or hurt, in which case they can bite or attack our children. They have done a good job!

We have the street department, which tries and tries to find a remedy for our troubled sewer breaks. But until professional people strictly educated in sewer systems are brought in, they will continue to struggle. They try and keep our streets safer with stop signs on busy corners, potholes filled, crosswalks and curbs painted, and sidewalks repaired. They have done a good job!

Then we have the City Hall workers... certainly no heroes there. They go about their daily duties of distributing licenses, birth and death certificates, collecting taxes, collecting sewer bills, collecting ambulance bills, billing auto accident victims, sorting invoices, typing letters, typing checks, compiling and computing. Perhaps the only people they "save" are the elected officials... from doing any work. But, that's what they're hired for and paid for, and they do work hard. They have done a good job!

So, good people of Granite City, what is all this hassle of paying these people for the good jobs they have done? No one downgrades a carpenter. No one downgrades a bricklayer. No one downgrades a steelworker. These people all earn decent wages. And they are all hard workers.

But there are some aldermen who continually harass the city workers. We have some of the public who harass the city workers. Perhaps they "catch" a worker on his break or perhaps just taking a breather after sitting at a typewriter for two solid hours of typing. Not miserably hard labor, but it helps to get up and get a cup of coffee and get the kinks out of the back.

The City Hall workers are the poorest paid of all city employees. All we're asking for is a simple raise, nothing like the $4,000 (in the next four years) that the mayor, clerk and treasurer are getting.

Victory of PLO orchestrated

To the Editor:

Remember the TET offensive in 1968 in South Vietnam by the North Vietnamese Army? The final stages of the war in Lebanon sound like an instant replay.

The all-out offensive launched by the North Vietnamese Communists was finally defeated by the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces, yet the major news media and the State Department were claiming this to be a tremendous political victory for the North Vietnamese because they were able to attack even though they were defeated.

In Lebanon, once again we hear that the PLO, who were defeated militarily, had won a political victory. Then we watch them on television right off in safety waving the victory sign under the protective arrangement of the U.S. government so they can fight again. These results were engineered in the name of peace, another episode of the peace movement.

Utilization plan in works for GC Army Installation

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Plans are envisioned by the U. S. Army to utilize between 75 percent and 100 percent of warehouse space at the Granite City Army Installation, the portion which is not now fully put to use, according to officials.

Future use of the Army's local facility was projected in a letter from Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army, Paul W. Johnson, Washington, D. C.

QUESTIONS concerning the installation were asked by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols in a May 29 letter to the Secretary of the Army.

The Venice official sought release of certain property for use by the community to help promote economic recovery in the area.

Echols informed Venice aldermen of the response to his request at Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

Johnson reported the 156 acres with three warehouses, the focus of Echols' concern, are currently occupied by a number of military tenants.

THE TENANTS include the Army reserves, Marine Corps, Corps of Engineers, Army Materiel Command and Fort Leonard Wood, according to the official.

Although the space within these warehouses is not now fully utilized, existing plans envision 75 percent to 100 percent utilization within the next 12 months," the Army's deputy assistant secretary said.

"The remainder of the 156 acres is an open area used for helicopter exercises and training and by the Army's 88th Division for tank training, including simulated gunnery practice."

"COMBINED WITH other land at the St. Louis Area Support Center (SLASC-GC Army Installation) this tract provides a valuable training site for Army Reservists located in the St. Louis area."

Johnson went on to say that on May 28 representatives of his office, accompanied by others representing the General Services Administration (GSA), visited SLASC (the local installation).

A meeting also was convened June 3 with GSA representatives in Washington to review utilization of SLASC.

"AS A RESULT of these discussions, and in view of the public interest in this matter, I have directed that a master development and utilization plan be prepared by the Corps of Engineers and the Army Materiel Command as soon as possible to cover the entirety of SLASC," Johnson said.

He added the master plan will be completed by Nov. 1.

"WHEN THIS PLAN is available, Army and GSA should then be in a position to make a final determination on the need for retention of the 156-acre tract in issue. A decision will be announced at that time," Johnson said.

After discussing the information at Tuesday's City Council meeting, Echols commented, "They made it clear the first priority is for the Army, although I've never seen a tank out there."

"I don't hold out much hope for that to happen (release of property) and those warehouses could be utilized for jobs," he said.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, a preliminary budget was approved for the McKinley Bridge general fund.

The final budget, scheduled to be submitted in July, will reflect an approximate five percent increase, including salaries and administrative costs, Echols said.

The mayor also authorized the issuance of new identification badges for health and building inspectors.

Comptroller Roseann Koelker was asked to prepare an updated list of persons who have obtained temporary permits to repair property.

"Several of these people never bothered to get an occupancy permit. So we don't know if the work was ever completed," Ward 1 Alderman John Fleig said.

"I suggest a list be prepared and given to each inspector and let them go out and check this property," Fleig said.

PICKUP TRUCK STOLEN

A blue Chevrolet pickup truck owned by Ron Greive, 503 Kirkpatrick Homes, was stolen June 25 while it was parked on the Charles Street parking lot.

Greive said he might have left his keys in the truck.

A story in last Thursday's Press-Record said the Granite City High School Marching Band will be performing in the Veiled Prophet Parade July 3 in downtown St. Louis. Also taking part in the parade will be all pom pom girls as well as the flag and rifle squads from the school.

New accelerated tax collection process set

State Treasurer James H. Donnewald has announced that on Friday, June 28, his office will open bids for satellite deposit facilities designed to speed the flow of income tax withholding payments into the state treasury.

Donnewald said that these facilities, to be established in Chicago and Springfield, will process approximately half the business withholding tax payments from employees' paychecks, accelerating the deposit of funds to interest-bearing accounts.

A total of 20 Chicago banks have been asked to bid for the Chicago facility and six downstate banks will bid for the Springfield-area facility. The contract will be awarded Aug. 1, and is scheduled for implementation on Oct. 1, with a test group at each facility of approximately 500 taxpayers. Both facilities are scheduled to be fully operational by Jan. 1, 1986.

These facilities will be established under a cooperative effort between the state treasurer's office and the Department of Revenue, and will relieve a significant administrative burden for tax processing from the Department of Revenue, in addition to speeding up the investment of funds.

Assuming an average annual rate of return of 8 percent in three days of accelerated collections, the state will realize more than $1.2 million in additional interest annually from this change, the treasurer said.

$815 raised in Bike-A-Thon

A total of approximately $815 was raised by 24 participants on June 2 in a Bike-A-Thon benefiting cystic fibrosis. This event was sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees.

George Schwendemann, Granite City Jaycees chairman of the Bike-A-Thon, offered his thanks to area citizens for their donations and to Nestle, Corral Liquors in Granite City, Vesel Inc., McDonald's, the Granite City House of Trophies, the St. Louis Area Support Center and Wilson Construction Co.

Trophies were awarded to the following riders:

Amey Schillinger - most miles traveled to competition; Marvin Ozeo - oldest rider; Amanda Johnson - youngest rider; Ben Ahlvers - most money collected; Renee Ozeo - most miles traveled during competition; and McDonald's Fries Soccer Team - most team participation.

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited, non-contagious degenerative and incurable disease that attacks the lungs and digestive system. Families of CF patients must spend thousands of dollars a year on treatment.

REVVING UP. Granite City police officers will be using some special wheels in their efforts to the control heavy traffic anticipated this weekend. Three two-wheel motorcycles were borrowed from Southern Illinois University and a Kawasaki 1000 police motorcycle is on loan from the Shriners. Police expect busy weekend

Numerous area activities planned this weekend already have the Granite City police busy.

Heading the list of events is the Car Craft Magazine Street Machine Nationals at the St. Louis International Raceway. Other activities are the 26th annual Granite City Park District Fourth of July Festival, the Downtown Sidewalk Sale, and the Lincoln Athletic Club Reunion.

If that wasn't enough for the city's police to be concerned with, especially when it comes to traffic, there's more.

Preparations are going on for the Vio Fair next week in St. Louis, and a home stand is set this weekend and next weekend for the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals.

"A large amount of visitors are anticipated this weekend and there will be some traffic problems," said Granite City Police Chief Bill Harris. "If local traffic is rerouted, we are asking residents to cooperate and understand the reasoning behind the rerouting."

Harris suggested residents coming into the Quad City area from Interstate 70 avoid using the Poplar Street Bridge.

He said eastbound traffic on Interstate 70 will be diverted, when traffic becomes heavy, past the Route 203 exit to Route 111. Harris anticipated traffic problems could occur as early as 7 a.m. Friday.

The Granite City Police Department will be aided in their extra patrol duties by the Granite City Auxiliary Police. In addition to regular patrol cars, police will use three motor scooters on loan from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and one police motorcycle to help control the crowd.

Illinois State Police and Madison County Sheriff's deputies will also have patrols on duty to aid in the control of the car show.

'Crisis in Black Community' symposium set Saturday

Black leaders in the fields of criminal justice, education, employment, health care and housing will be examining the issues confronting the black community in a symposium sponsored by The National Association of Blacks Within Government from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, June 29, at St. Louis

Community College at Forest Park.

"Crisis in the Black Community: Old Problems New Directions and Solutions," is the theme for the symposium. Keynote speaker will be Dr. M. Carl Holman, president of the National Urban Coalition in Washington D.C., an organization which has served as an advocate for poor, minority and working class residents in urban areas since 1967 by building partnerships among these residents and representatives of the private sector and government.

The daughter of Madison Mayor and Mrs. John Belloff, she will begin her junior year at Duquesne in September, where she is majoring in accounting.

DAV Chapter reviews veteran benefits

Robert (Bob) Kennerly, commander of Disabled American Veterans, urged chapter members to support HR2343, a bill that contains the Congress declaration that VA compensation should continue to remain exempt from federal taxation, even though President Reagan declared in his televised tax reform package on May 28 that Veteran disability compensation will not be taxed.

Another bill recently approved elevates the Purple Heart to higher precedence. The Department of Defense has issued instructions that direct the Purple Heart be placed immediately below the Bronze Star medal and before the Defense Meritorious Service Medal.

Larry Lockhart reported Bill Kmucha was transferred from Jefferson Barracks to John Cochran Hospital, St. Louis.

Donations were approved for the Granite City firemen to purchase flags to display along Madison Avenue on July 4 and to the Soldiers House in Quincy, Ill., to help it observe and celebrate its centennial.

Convention reports were reviewed by the delegates, noting those elected to state offices: Dennis Guernsey, commander; Tony Martino, senior vice commander; Clint Bowers, first vice commander; Ed Novak, second vice commander; Tom McIntosh, third vice commander; Clement Campbell, chaplain; Leon Fleener, judge advocate; Russ Mann, sergeant-at-arms. Larry Lockhart was reappointed chairman of the finance committee.

Bob Pine was appointed chapter service officer to replace Larry Lockhart, who resigned. The appointment will become effective July 1.

Lunch was prepared and served by Harold Menzel and Lawrence McGuire.

Group applies for permit

Ill-Pac Coast Transportation Co., Inc., and Gerald and Nora Moss have applied for a special use permit to continue their transportation business located at 1601 Madison Ave., Madison. The group was stopped from moving an old railcar through the streets of Madison several months ago.

Afterwards, the Zoning Board of Appeals for the City of Madison denied an industrial permit to the petitioners and city aldermen agreed with the recommendation at the June 18 city council meeting. Citizens and property owners in the immediate area of the business have compiled a petition objecting to the permit being issued to the Ill-Pac Coast Transportation Co. and have secured 38 signatures of the residents.

The petition states that the request be denied because "It is a very broad request that raises many questions as to the intent of the petitions and exactly what they intend to do at their business site. Its effect on the families and property near the location are of a depreciating nature and could affect property values and insurance cost, as well as some potential safety problems." In part, the area bulk variances are requested for the following reasons:

- To amend the current non-conforming use classification to include a special use permit to allow the maintenance, renovation, restoration, remodeling, storage and repair of railroad refrigeration boxcars, as well as, the free movement of the railroad refrigeration boxcars in and out of the property upon the city streets of Madison.

- To allow the on-premises storage and warehousing of product associated with the motor freight and terminal business operated upon the premises, and to allow continued development and expansion of all aspects of the motor freight and terminal business as the needs of those businesses dictate.

Firecracker use is illegal

Granite City residents discharging fireworks during the Fourth of July holiday week will be prosecuted.

This warning was issued by Granite City Police Chief Bill Harris on Tuesday.

"IT IS ILLEGAL to own or possess fireworks in the state of Illinois," Harris said. "Arrests will be made under certain circumstances."

Those persons violating the law may be charged with either discharging fireworks or unlawful possession of fireworks, depending on the offense.

Harris emphasized police are cracking down on offenders because of the dangers involved in discharging fireworks.

ON MONDAY of this week, a Centralia teenager died when he was burned over 100 percent of his body as a result of an oil tank explosion related to fireworks. Apparently the boy had been lighting firecrackers near some oil tanks, causing a fire.

A huge explosion Tuesday leveled a fireworks plant in Hallett, Okla., killing at least 21 workers at the plant. The blast produced a giant mushroom cloud over the plant and hurled bodies 200 feet.

"Fireworks are really dangerous and the incidents that happened this week illustrate that too well," said Harris. "If people want to see a display, I suggest they go to the Granite City Park District for their show."

Additional cheese to be distributed

Venice Township officials announced Wednesday they have several cases of cheese left from their distribution of commodities this week.

A second distribution of the cheese will be held Monday, July 1, at Englebert Hall, 11th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Distribution will begin at 8 a.m. and is restricted to Venice Township residents.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED AS CAR PULLS IN PATH

Chouteau trustees approve new budget

By RACHEL NEWSOME

No new taxes are in the fiscal budget approved for Chouteau Township at a public hearing Tuesday.

With an increase of $25,129, the budget totaled $246,211. There was a decrease of $61 in the general fund, which this year amounted to $111,115. The general assistance fund totaling $66,455, is up by $10,930 from last year. This year's revenue sharing fund is $68,641.

Many requests were made by area organizations for revenue sharing money. The board donated $1,800 in total: $500 to Hartford Library, $300 to the Association for Protection of Animals (APA), and $1,000 to South Roxana Fire Department.

The township may still expect $13,227 from revenue sharing funds budgeted last year.

"We will receive the money in two payments, one in July and one in September," said Pat Polley, town clerk. Each payment will amount to $7,764.

Each year a portion of the revenue funds are donated, while the remaining funds are distributed to various township departments and programs. These include financial administration, insurance, community activities, maintenance, ambulance service, mosquito abatement program, senior aid program, auditing, building and ground improvements and the highway department.

The board approved an application for $60,000 for housing rehabilitation at a Community Development meeting immediately following the public hearing.

Joe Parente, a representative from Madison County Community Development, recommended the township apply for housing rehabilitation. "You can always use it," he said.

At a regular meeting on Monday, Supervisor Morris Miles read a letter from Madison County Community Development requesting more applications for their weatherization program. The program was developed for those residents who are in a lower income bracket and need major home repairs. The program was originally designed for the handicapped and the elderly, it was noted.

"Income-wise they are pretty stringent," said Polley.

If interested, residents should call 1-800-368-0000 or write Madison County Weatherization, 114 First Ave., Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

In other business, the board approved to write Madison County for insecticide for the mosquito abatement program. Crown's price per gallon was $18.57.

The township will soon advertise for bids for road repairs on 400 feet of Lakeview Drive and 15 feet of Rapp Road, it was reported. Repairs include the cleaning up or "scrapping off" of the stated portions, plus the application of a two-inch asphalt base.

"We hope to have this completed by the end of July," said Joe Stefanoff, highway commissioner. Due to the purchasing of a new tractor by the highway department, a $35 insurance increase also was approved. The tractor was purchased in May for moving purposes at a cost of $7,245.

The board's next regular meeting is scheduled for July 8 at 7 p.m. at the township offices.

Benefit dance Friday

A spokesman for Phoenix Crisis Center Inc. announced Monday that the Dave Shepard Band will play for the benefit dance to be held this Friday, June 28, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 4225 Old Alton Road.

Dave Shepard is the lead vocalist, with Tom Hopper on drums and Eddie Weiss on bass and additional vocals.

Phoenix, a newly formed group for the benefit of abused women and children, hopes to have a 24-hour hot line and eventually a shelter for victims of abuse.

CHASE ENDS IN ARREST

Robert Lupinsky, 50, of St. Louis was arrested on two counts June 26 after a high-speed chase on Illinois Route 3.

Police were called to Emzee Avenue in reference to a tractor-trailer driving with the lights off. The vehicle ran two stop signs and headed north on Route 3 before being stopped just south of St. Thomas Road.

Lupinsky was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and resisting arrest.

Funding for well considered

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Various government officials may come up with a plan to fund the operation of a well in the Dobrey Slough area.

Although a meeting between officials in Nameoki Township, the Metro-East Sanitary District, Granite City and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has been delayed for a week, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs is optimistic a plan to operate the well may be devised.

"THE REPORT I get from Norm Hall (a Nameoki Township trustee who has been studying the cost of operating the well) is that he's worked out one heck of a way to fund this thing. I think it would be worth it for six months to see if it's feasible," Briggs said during a meeting of township trustees Monday.

Hall was out of town this week. The well was installed last January, and area residents would like someone to take responsibility for operating and maintaining it. IF NO ONE does, the Corps, which installed and tested the well, will remove it.

MESD Executive Director Shang Greathouse said he will ask the Corps to delay removing the well until an agreement can be reached between the levee district, Nameoki Township and Granite City. The Corps has set a deadline of July 29 for determining what to do with the well. It was installed to determine its effectiveness in reducing the underground water level.

THE WELL, installed on private property between Hemlock and Pine streets, was able to draw down the water level by one foot in 48 hours of testing.

However, Corps officials doubt that the effects on the well would be that drastic after 48 hours of pumping. The well was used to pull water into Dobrey Slough and channel it to a pump station located at the end of the slough near Pontoon Road.

Legislation strengthens environmental control

Legislation strengthening the Criminal Damage to the Environment Act has been approved by the Illinois Senate and now goes to the governor, according to Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan.

Senate Bill 621, drafted by the Attorney General's Environmental Control Division, establishes a new offense of "unlawful delivery of hazardous waste." It places a duty on generators of toxic waste to ensure that the waste is disposed of properly.

A generator will have to make sure that those who transport and dispose of his waste have obtained the necessary permits from the Illinois EPA. Violation is a Class Three Felony with a penalty of up to five years in prison and a fine of up to $250,000.

The 1983 Criminal Damage to the Environment Act, authored by Hartigan's office, provides stiff criminal penalties for those who illegally dispose of hazardous wastes in Ilinois. It includes a Calculated Criminal Disposal provision carrying a fine of up to $500,000 and a seven-year prison sentence. The first convictions under the new law were obtained this year in the Rockford area.

SWISA Swimming, Diving Paddlers drydock foe Summer Haven

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It's been a long wait for members of Paddlers swim team. It's been year since Summer Haven upset them in the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association championships last August.

Losing the title they've held for four straight years was bad enough, but losing at home as meet hosts really hurt. Team members have been thinking about the defeat through all year long. It's been a long time to wait to get their revenge.

Their long wait came to an end Tuesday as they upset the defending SWISA champions by 106 points, 579-269. Appropriately enough, the victory came at Paddlers, the same place they conceded victory nearly 11 months ago.

FOLLOWING that loss a year ago, Paddler swim coach Celeste Sonnenberg issued her team a challenge. A challenge to use the loss as a springboard for success. She made the challenge at last year's banquet at the Wameoiki Township Hall.

"I remember telling them to use the loss as a tool — a lesson — for learning," Sonnenberg said. "I issued them a challenge then. I told them to, if possible, swim during the winter. If not swim, play soccer or do anything to develop themselves."

Judging by the outcome of Tuesday's meet, Sonnenberg's swimmers accepted her challenge as the local squad all but drydoxed Summer Haven. Paddlers' divers were also successful in their second consecutive win as they bettered Summer Haven 38-31.

FOR PADDLERS' swimmers it was sweet revenge. For Sonnenberg, it was the payoff from all her rallying speeches.

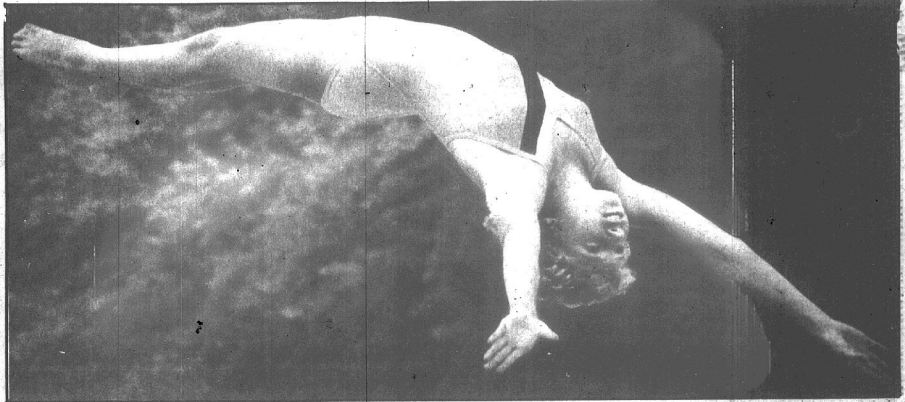

"Was I talking about it?" Sonnenberg said of last year's victory. "I haven't let them forget it. Reminding them has been part of my opening speech before each of two meets."

It became clear in the early going that Paddlers were going to upset the defending SWISA champs. Beginning with the 8 and under swimmers, Paddlers dove in, taking an early lead and never looked back.

"RIGHT FROM" the start we looked good," Sonnenberg said. "My kids are in better shape than I thought. Our six through eight year olds were really competitive. I don't think they got beat all afternoon. They're animals."

Among those "animals" is Pat Curry, an 8-year-old who comes from a long line of swimmers.

Swimming in his first meet of the season, Curry won the 25-meter butterfly, shattering the old team record by two full seconds, clocking in at 18.6.

FANTASTIC FORM. Jenny Baker, of Paddlers Swim Club, displays excellent form in this back dive during Tuesday evening's dive competition against arch-rival Summer Haven.

"You've got to know Pat to appreciate this," Sonnenberg said. "Last year he wouldn't even get in the water. And this year he began practice two days late. But he proved himself. He's a natural swimmer."

Sonnenberg's other swimming "animals" include Steven Geske, Jason Talley and Karen Yehling.

Each finished first in their respective events.

The young Geske finished first in the backstroke and freestyle while Talley fared well in the back and breast strokes. Yehling finished first in the back and freestyle.

Other first-place finishers include Julie Goclan, in backstroke and freestyle events; Brooke Bjorkman, Baker was one of five divisional winners who led the local dive team to victory. The club's swim team also posted a win, avenging a loss during last year's swimming championships.

who swam backstroke in the medley; Corey Reed, butterfly, individual medley and freestyle; Suchon Tulyasathin, in the breast and freestyle.

JENNY BAKER was a winner in the butterfly, individual medley, freestyle, breast and back stroke; Larry Curry in the butterfly and freestyle; Kelly Reed, in the backstroke, butterfly and freestyle; D'Na Hankins in the individual medley and the breast stroke; Patti Martin in the butterfly, individual medley and the back stroke; Diane Oliver, in the butterfly and freestyle; and John Amisch, in the individual medley, breast stroke and back stroke.

"It was really a fine effort by everyone," Sonnenberg said. "I really thought Brooke (Bjorkman) was going to be edged out in her backstroke of the medley."

"SHE'S SO little and the kid swimming against her was a horse. But she came on at the end and just out-touched her for the win. That was probably the most exciting race of the day."

In all, Paddlers' swimmers took 48 first places of the 76 total events, or 63 percent of all races.

Coach Gayle McCormick's diving team, defending SWISA champs, won five of eight events enroute to its victory for a similar winning percentage.

Individual dive winners include Jenny Baker, 11-12 girls; Mike McCormick, 15-19 boys; Heather Crane, 15-19, and Brent Golden, 10 and under boys.

DESPITE a pair of wins in each of their first two outings this season, McCormick isn't about to look past any competitors.

"Just because we have a good swimming team doesn't mean we're going to have a good diving team, and vice versa. They're two very different sports."

"Our problem this year is numbers. We've only got one girl in 15-17 (Heather Crane) and one in 13-14 (Wendy Knollman). And, we're very weak in 11-12 boys. We've got some very fine divers, but we're giving up a lot too."

To make matters worse Tuesday, McCormick's diving team competed without the services of David Edwards, Joe Wallace, and Troy Adamidis. All three are vacationing with their families.

"LUCKILY we're able to schedule some of the better teams later in the season," McCormick said. "It enables us to face good competition but still allows us to practice for the ones we know are going to be our toughest competition."

Next on the schedule for Paddlers' swimming and diving teams is Gaslight of Collinsville, next Tuesday, July 2, in Collinsville.

Briggs to head local girls to select soccer team

By GREGG OCHOA for the Press-Record

ALTON — Some of the best soccer players in the Midwest will converge on Gordon Moore Park this weekend for the Girls Regional Select Team tournament.

The two-day event will pit All-Stars from 10 different states playing for the right to represent their respective regions.

Illinois will field two select squads; the under 16 and Under 19 groups.

Action gets under way with first round games on June 29.

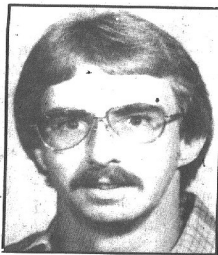

GENE BRIGGS of Madison High School will serve as coach of the Under 19 team. Briggs will be assisted by Thor Kutinsky, a Russian selector.

On the roster will be eight girls from Granite City.

They include: Maria Parra, Gina Tanski, Robin York, Beth Werth, Micky Williams, Stacie Foreman, Colleen Ryan and Julie Maclos.

Except for Mary Furfuro of Collinsville, the remainder of the Under 19 roster is composed of girls who attended high school in northern Illinois.

THE UNDER 16 team will have seven players from Granite City. They are: Ann Szczepanik, Christy

Gene Briggs

York, Ann Krystopa, Michelle Jones, Diane Takmajian, Mary DeRuntz and Kim Ames.

Coaches of the Under 16 team include Carl Bauer and Tom Garding.

All of the girls were selected after tryouts on June 15 in which a North-South All-Star game was played at Wheaton.

"In the past whichever team wins, those girls would then go on to represent the state at the regionals,"

Briggs said. "This year we decided to do it a little differently."

THE REGION II tournament in Alton is sponsored by the Illinois Youth Soccer Association. Teams participating will hail from Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Ohio (North and South parts of the state), Iowa, Missouri, Indiana and Michigan.

Based on their performance this weekend selected players from the 10 states will be chosen for a regional select team which will play in a tournament Aug. 3-9 at Benedictine College in Atchison, Kan.

"We'll know a little more on exactly how many girls we'll pick after the board of directors get together," said Liz Wheeler, IYSA administrator for the girls select team.

WHEELER said IYSA board of directors are slated to meet Friday at the Holiday Inn in Alton.

At the tournament in Kansas, four girls from each region will be picked for a national select team that will train in Colorado Springs at the U.S. Olympic facilities.

In 1988, women's soccer will be a medal sport in the Summer Olympics at Seoul, South Korea. The United States team, however, will be picked in 1987.

The Region II tournament will consist of 56 games held on eight different fields. The Illinois teams will each play four games. The schedule is as follows:

- Under 16
June 29: Illinois vs. Nebraska at 11:30 a.m.; Illinois vs. Michigan at 3:15 p.m. (both at Field 11)
June 30: Illinois vs. Missouri at 10:20 a.m. (Field 1); Illinois vs. Indiana at 3 p.m. (Field 3).
- Under 19
June 29: Illinois vs. Michigan at 4:30 p.m. (Field 2); Illinois vs. Indiana at 10:15 a.m. (Field 3).
June 30: Illinois vs. Missouri at 4:10 p.m. (Field 2); Illinois vs. Ohio (North) at 11:30 a.m. (Field 3).

The will be no admission charged at the gate.

Briggs feels the tournament is a good program. "I think it is a step in the right direction in developing (soccer) on a statewide level. Right now it's sort of limited to this area and in Chicago."

Briggs sees the teams biggest advantage is "its over all skills. The biggest strength is that you don't have any real weaknesses."

Trittschuh

Hundelt, a former National Youth Team back, started 15 of the Cougars' 19 games last year and anchored a defensive unit that allowed just 1.53 goals per game. In his three years at SIUE, Hundelt has also chipped in two goals and a pair of assists.

Brown, who worked his way into the SIUE starting lineup for seven of the 18 games he played last year, collected a goal and two assists as a sophomore.

OTHERS joining Hundelt, Trittschuh and Brown on the North team include: Steve Maurer and Tim Miramonti of St. Louis University; John Stahl and Ted Hantak of the University of Missouri-St. Louis; and Jim Schwab of Florissant Valley Community College.

Players earned the right to compete in the National Sports Festival by being selected from senior teams from throughout the region. The St. Louis area players, who are also members of the Missouri Senior Soccer Association State Select Team, were chosen after they swept the four-team District Tournament in Cleveland, Ohio.

Trittschuh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trittschuh of Granite City.

Maryland Plaza fire

Savon Center Laundromat at about 7:15 p.m. The fire spread quickly through the common ceiling to other businesses.

The fire department had said the fire was caused when a dryer overheated, but Holder said Wednesday an investigation revealed the fire was caused by a water heater malfunction.

"WHEN WE arrived on the scene, there was an eyewitness who said a dryer had overheated and the glass on the door broke," Holder said. "Right away we assumed the source of the fire was the dryer, but our investigation revealed otherwise."

Burton said any reported cause of the fire is speculation. He said Shelter Insurance Co. is investigating the fire. The results could be known next week.

According to Holder, the insurance company assessed the building's damage at $50,000. Burton said the loss in content was more than $500,000, based on a preliminary insurance company inspection.

CONCERNING RESPONSE time: Holder said the fire department's first vehicle was on the scene three minutes after receiving the call.

Burton disputed the time, saying it took several minutes. He said an employee in the laundromat made an initial call, but it took a second call from another location to get the department to respond. Another witness, according to Burton, said the first fire truck went around the block three times before finding a hydrant, and that hydrant did not work.

"I'm not a fireman, don't get me wrong, but it seems like there were too many problems involved in the response to this fire," Burton said.

HOLDER RESPONDED to the allegation, saying "It didn't happen that way. He's trying to cover up for the problems he hasn't corrected."

Holder said the fire hydrant Burton claims didn't work, (the one at the intersection of Amos and Wabash) was a hydrant they were using to put out a fire.

Businesses housed in Maryland Plaza besides the laundromat were Inge's Brides and Formals, ERA Heritage Realty, Balloon and Flower Boutique, BAC Video, Triangle Drafting Business and Investment and Commercial Realty Co.

Tax proposal

town bridge problem, the consequences of inaction and the merits of the committee's recommendations.

The interim committee also could negotiate with the current bridge owners for the purchase of the bridges.

In addition, the committee would obtain more detailed plans and cost estimates.

"THESE RECOMMENDATIONS are not unique," Lazerson said, noting similar recommendations made in the past had been abandoned. "I am sure there are other ways one could approach this problem, but if they (the recommendations) are there, they should be tested in a public forum. It's not an easy thing to do to recommend an additional tax."

But Lazerson said he is optimistic these recommendations will be pursued.

"I think we've reached the point in terms of criticality of the situation where we need to take action. I think we've got the first step... an education program set up to apprise the public of what the situation is. What we're talking about is jobs of the people. The bridges are a vehicle. The issue is the quality of life."

IN FACT, the report states the major consequences of inaction would be "continued deterioration and the eventual closing of the Eads and Martin Luther King bridges; diminished development potential for southwestern Illinois and the St. Louis region as a whole; total reliance on the Poplar Street Bridge, making the region vulnerable to severe disruption caused by incidents on the bridge; and eventual need for a new bridge and approaches estimated to cost about $200 million."

"It's another nail in the coffin in the decline of downtown St. Louis" if something is not done about the bridges, Lazerson said.

Meanwhile, officials in Venice, which owns the McKinley Bridge, have only just begun to review the report. However, Lazerson said, they have expressed some misgivings about selling the bridge to an interstate commission.

LAZERSON SAID Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols has expressed some concerns about the loss of jobs by people currently employed at the bridge.

The bridge committee, comprised of 15 Illinois and Missouri residents, held public hearings between October 1984 and March 1985. In addition, the committee addressed specific tasks in forming the report.

The hearings and subcommittee studies showed that 15 percent of all downtown St. Louis employees live in Illinois, about 78 percent of the trips using the downtown bridges either originate or terminate in Madison and St. Clair counties and 7 percent of all trips in the region use one of the downtown bridges in a single day.

IN ADDITION, the report said 83 percent of the average daily traffic uses the Poplar Street Bridge, while the remaining 17 percent uses the four remaining bridges; however, the percentage rises to 38 during peak hours.

As a system, the bridges are operating at 90 percent of their capacity during peak hours.

"By 1995, as the region continues to develop, the traffic demands on the bridges during peak hours could exceed their cumulative capacity by 15 percent. This will mean that peak periods will lengthen to accommodate the demand, resulting in greater congestion lasting longer than that seen to date. This will, in turn, cause a significant negative impact on the development of the St. Louis region," the report concluded.

Venice applies for CD funds for housing rehabilitation

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Venice will apply for $60,000 in Community Development Funds to rehabilitate at least six homes in the community. It was decided during a public hearing Tuesday night.

A total of $225,000 in housing funds is available through the Madison County Community Development. The deadline to apply for a share of the money is today, June 27.

FEW CITIZENS were present at the start of the 7:30 p.m. public meeting when comments on how the money should be used were solicited.

About 25 people had assembled in the Venice City Council chambers before the hearing concluded, however.

Announcement on allocations to various Madison County communities will be made the first week in July, according to Joe Parente, Community Development coordinator.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for a share of the available funds, a public hearing affording citizens an opportunity to submit their views is required, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols explained.

"The point is these funds can only be used for rehabilitation of housing, so there really is no decision on that," the mayor said.

Those eligible to participate in the program must fall within the specific income levels set forth in federal guidelines, he added.

WE CAN ASK for the whole $225,000, but from past history we will get our share by whatever HUD (U.S. Housing and Urban Development) puts down for distribution of the funds.

"Realistically, we'll probably be in the ballpark for between $30,000 and $40,000," Echols answered in response to one question.

"Probably we are talking about $37,500 for five homes, but we can ask for more," the mayor said.

PREVIOUS ALLOCATIONS permitted a maximum of $7,500 for each dwelling to be repaired and renovated.

If the necessary work to bring a home up to standard costs $10,000, the homeowner is required to provide the additional funds to complete the job.

The owner also is responsible for securing the remaining money to finish the project and must show proof these funds are available, the mayor said.

"They don't go on promises; you have to show them the money; there to finish the project is there," Mayor Echols said.

AT THE SUGGESTION of Third Ward Alderman John Ervin, a request for a $60,000 grant was inserted in the application.

The alderman also asked the sum of $10,000 be sought to rehabilitate each dwelling, rather than $7,500 as previously requested.

Ervin also asked if there still is money set aside for people to borrow the necessary funds to complete a job through a low-interest loan program.

"I don't know if they still have that program," the mayor responded.

RESTRICTIONS tied to use of the housing pool money also prevents demolition work on derelict property, Echols said, answering another question.

"Although sometimes they (funding authorities) have been generous enough to allow us to shift some funds for another purpose," the mayor said.

"They will send inspectors out to look at the (proposed) property and then they will contact contractors to get bids to do the work," Echols said.

GRANTS ARE BASED on the needs of a community, plus the residents' income levels and its unemployment figures, he said.

Echols said the annual income figures to comply with the federal guidelines recently were revised.

"People making $14,000 a year now could be eligible for this program, depending on the size of their family," he replied to another question.

News of Quad-City area servicemen serving in the various branches of the U.S. military includes:

RAYMOND PAVLOW

Navy Ensign Raymond Pavlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. John (Sally) Pavlow, 1737 Market St., Madison, was commissioned in his present rank upon completion of Aviation Officer Candidate School.

During the 13-week course at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Fla., Pavlow was prepared for future duties and responsibilities as a commissioned officer and to prepare him to enter primary flight training. Pavlow received general military, academic, physical fitness and leadership training, including navigation, military justice, mathematics and physics.

His pre-flight training focused on aerodynamics, sea and land survival, aviation physiology and basic aircraft engineering.

Pavlow is a 1982 graduate of Parks College of St. Louis University, Cahokia, where he earned a bachelor of science degree. He joined the U. S. Navy in January 1985.

WALLACE DANDRIDGE

Marine Private Wallace Dandridge, a 1984 graduate of Venice High School, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

In the 11-week training cycle, Dandridge was taught the basics of battlefield survival and was introduced to the typical daily routine he will experience during his enlistment.

The local man also studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. He also participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in various military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

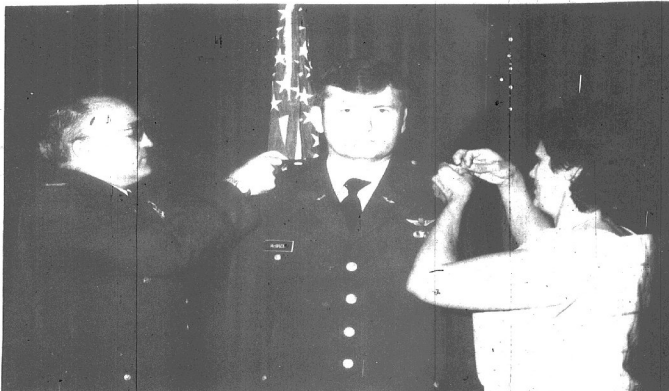

Dandridge joined the Marine Corps in February 1985.

TYRONE MANZY

Tyrone J. Manzy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace (Wilma J.) Manzy, 525 Mercedita Ave., Venice, was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation May 22 from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. He was awarded a bachelor's degree in computer science.

The lieutenant is scheduled to attend training in the Air Defense Artillery Branch at Fort Bliss, Texas. The U.S. Military Academy is a four-year educational institution with the task of training young Americans to become professional Army officers. In addition to the military training, the academy stresses academics, intramural and intercollegiate athletics and other extracurricular activities.

Lt. Manzy is a 1981 graduate of Madison High School.

PROUD MOMENT. Army Lieutenant Colonel Ronald H. McBride of Granite City receives the silver oak leaf insignia of his new rank from his wife, Mrs. Pot (Hoffman) McBride, right, and Colonel J. Vaughn. The ceremony took place at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. The veteran U. S. Army pilot and his family presently are spending time here with relatives prior to reassignment to West Germany for a second three-year overseas duty tour.

Army promotes Ronald McBride

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Staff writer

Lieutenant Colonel Ronald H. McBride, U. S. Army, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery, Ala.

A 18-year veteran of service in the Aviation Branch of the U. S. Army, the officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. McBride, 3909 Franklin Ave.

Lt. Col. McBride, a pilot, received the silver oak leaves, designating his new rank, from Colonel J. Vaughn in ceremonies at Maxwell AFB. He has been assigned to the Air Command and Staff College at the Alabama base for the past 10 months.

The officer and his family are currently visiting relatives in Granite City prior to reassignment to West Germany for three years.

He is married to the former Pat Hoffman, daughter of Mrs. Grace Hoffman of Granite City and the late Louis Hoffman. The couple has three daughters, Kimberly, 17, Laura, 14, and Beth, 7.

Both Lt. Col. and Mrs. McBride graduated from Granite City High School.

While here, the couple is planning to attend the 20th-year reunion of the Army officer's graduating class. The affair is scheduled Saturday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Old Alton Road.

Prior to his tour at Maxwell AFB, Lt. Col. McBride was an instructor for a 12-month period at the Army's Command General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The McBrides will leave in July for Heilberg, West Germany, where the officer will be working in budget programming at Headquarters—U. S. Army Europe.

This will be the military family's second tour of duty in Germany. They previously spent three years in the vicinity of Frankfurt.

Q: In determining my personal net worth, what assets should be included? Should I list my Individual Retirement Account and company pension fund?

A: Yes, your IRA and other pensions funds should be included in the asset side of a net worth calculation. Although it is difficult to arrive at a value estimate for pension funds, generally the lump sum payment you would receive if you quit today is the figure used. Other things to include are savings accounts and savings certificates, money lent to others (or personal accounts receivable). Remember U. S. Savings Bonds, stocks and bonds at current values or quotations. Determine the current market value of your house and other real estate property. List household furnishings (a rule of thumb is to estimate value of furnishings and appliances at five % of the value of your house). Include appraised jewelry, art and antiques and the resale value of your car. And, don't forget the cash value of your permanent life insurance policies.

Group fights rail crossing accidents, deaths, delays

By BILL WINTER

Excessive railroad crossing delays can be curbed through public contact with the Illinois Railroad Association (IRA).

This was the message at Granite City's June prayer breakfast last week at Charlie's Restaurant. Guest speaker was Kirk R. Riva, IRA public affairs director, who was introduced by Carl E. Mathias of the Rotary prayer breakfast committee.

Riva said the Illinois Railroad Association can be contacted at 1-217-753-8739 or Suite 103 at 300 E. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62701.

IT WORKS CLOSELY with 20 railway freight companies to reduce deaths, injuries, accidents and delays at on-grade railroad-auto crossings, the speaker related.

Riva said the association met with representatives of the Illinois Commerce Commission in 1976 to discuss the problem of grade crossing accidents.

"It was apparent a statewide education and enforcement program was needed, in addition to accelerating the crossing protection fund from which gates, flashing signals and signs are financed," Riva said.

"The Illinois Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Council was formed and Operation Lifesaver was launched."

"OPERATION LIFESAVER is essentially threefold, the first concern being education of the public to emphasize the risk involved in disregarding warning signs."

"The second concern of the program is enforcement. If laws are not enforced, they will be violated and accidents will continue to happen."

"The third concern is engineering—providing crossings with as many physical improvements as is practical."

"Crossing accidents have decreased dramatically in the last several years, Riva said."

ILLINOIS TOTALS were 825 in 1976; 827 the following year, 761 in 1978; 771 accidents in 1979 and 606 in 1980, decreasing further to 456 in 1981, 409 the next year, 398 in 1983 and 363 in 1984.

Riva added, "The positive aspect of Operation Lifesaver is the potential for saving lives. If people are educated to the dangers at crossings, there is the opportunity to make them more aware so they do not wind up as another statistic."

"Another factor is the value for the community stemming from interaction within that community."

"Police officials, city officials, the public, schools, civic groups, churches and others share the goal of making their area a safer and more secure place in which to live."

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS listed include:

—Obey crossing safety rules and signs. Show you care about your own safety and your passengers.

—If you start over a crossing and the flashing lights start or the gates come down, don't freeze. Keep going. The warning signals allow enough time to drive over the crossing before the train arrives. No gate on the other side will block your lane. If you stop and try to back up, you may stall.

—When waiting for a train to pass, be patient. Daring out, just as the caboose passes, may put you into the path of another train on a second track.

—ABANDON YOUR CAR if you stall on the tracks, or if your car is boxed in by other vehicles. Gates won't trap you, but a halt in highway traffic flow might. Never drive onto a railroad track until certain you can drive all the way across.

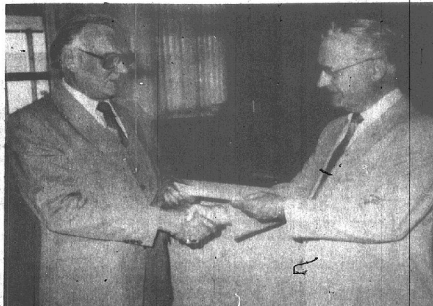

—Be extra alert at night or in bad weather. Never override your headlights. About one of every four crossing accidents involves a motor vehicle being driven against a train.

—Don't let familiarity breed contempt. Maybe you go back and forth over the same track every day, or several times a day. You have lived here all your life and take train times for granted. But railroads operate around-the-clock and sometimes change schedules. An unexpected train is a possibility.

RIVA SAID common causes of crossing crashes include: the driver sees a train coming but misjudges speed and distance; a motorist races a train to the crossing and is either struck by it or runs into the side of it; a driver travels at a speed too great to stop in time.

Also, with air-conditioning and the radio operating, a motorist cannot hear an approaching train and fails to look; windows of the auto are frosted up or are dirty; and a driver becomes so involved in a conversation with passengers that he fails to pay enough attention to an approaching train, which due to its great weight cannot stop quickly.

MASONIC ENDOWMENT FUND gift of $100,000 is presented by John Tallgren, left, vice-president and trust officer of the First Granite City National Bank, to E. Gene Ross, grand master of Masons of Illinois. The money is from the estate of Fred Meyling, a former resident of Granite City and a member of the Masonic fraternity. The endowment is used to fund the operation of the senior citizen home for Masons and their families and the Illinois Masonic Children's Home. Ross, a native of Granite City, will be involved in the Endowment Program following the completion of his tenure as state officer in October 1985.

The "Miss Downtown Granite City" beauty pageant will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, June 29, in the Star Theater, 1917 State St. The pageant, sponsored by the Downtown Promotion Committee, is free to the public. Tickets are available at participating downtown stores.

To date, 15 Granite City contestants ages 14 to 18 will compete in the pageant. Contestants will be judged on an interview with the judges, and swimsuit and formal wear competitions. The identity of the contest judges is secret.

The winner of the contest and the runner-up will receive gifts from several downtown merchants.

The pageant is in conjunction with the Downtown Sidewalk Sale June 27 to 29.

Motor fuel taxes distributed locally

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $12,983,324 as their share of motor fuel taxes paid into the state treasury during May, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies are allocated on the basis of population. In the Quad-Cities area, Granite City received $49,705 for May, Madison received $7,157 and Venice received $4,698.

WARRANT IS SERVED

Stephen I. Mitchell, 26, of 1636 Primrose Ave. was arrested by Granite City police June 22 after being served a St. Clair County warrant. Mitchell was released after posting $102 cash bail.

Legislation introduced to improve airport security

Sen. Alan J. Dixon has introduced legislation that would give the secretary of transportation authority to restrict air travel to the United States from airports with security problems.

Dixon's bill, known as the Airport and Air Carrier Security Improvement Act of 1985, requires the transportation secretary to conduct periodic assessments of the effectiveness of security measures at foreign airports.

If foreign governments fail to improve security to standards generally comparable with those in effect at American airports, the secretary would be required to post at all major U.S. airports the list of security-deficient foreign airports.

"Since at least some of the countries with security problems at their airports have major tourism industries that could be seriously damaged if Americans acted on the warning and traveled elsewhere, this step alone should be a powerful influence toward strengthening security," Dixon said.

The legislation also authorizes the Department of Transportation to provide technical assistance concerning aviation security to foreign governments, including training foreign nationals here.

"There is no doubt we cannot wait for the next hijacking to show us where the airport and air carrier security problems are. We need a mechanism to insure that security problems are uncovered and corrected, and this bill is a good first step toward that goal," Dixon said.

The bill is based on a measure introduced in 1978 by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, but never passed by the Senate.

Williams to run for sheriff

Edward Williams, 42, of Glen Carbon announced that he will be a Democratic candidate for Madison County sheriff in the November 1986 elections.

Sheriff Emil Toffani has announced that he will not seek re-election, but will support Robert Churchich in his bid for sheriff. Churchich is police chief in Hartford.

Williams has been employed as a police officer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the past 12 years. In addition, he has been on the Glen Carbon Board of Trustees for the past five years and has been chairman of its police committee.

"As chairman of the police committee, I am directly responsible for the overall coordination of the operation of the police department," he said. "This includes all budgetary matters, patrol functions, crime prevention programs, safety programs for children, Neighborhood Watch programs, as well as training of the police officers and increasing the professionalism of the operation."

of the police department."

Williams is a graduate of Assumption High School in East St. Louis. He received an associate degree in science from Belleville Area College and an associate degree in law enforcement from Lewis and Clark Community College. Williams also received a bachelor degree in police administration and criminal justice from McKendree College. He also has a master degree in education from SIUE.

Williams is a member of VFW Post 1289, American Legion Post 1561, Kiwanis Club, Illinois Police Association, Madison County Police Association and Teamsters Local 525.

He has served as a Democratic precinct committeeman and as a member of the Madison County Democratic Executive Committee.

Mothers Club mark 50th year and fete past officers

The Mothers Club of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, honored past presidents and observed the 50th anniversary of the club at their regular meeting Tuesday, June 4, at 8:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

Thirty-three members and guests attended, including 16 past presidents.

Jo Meyer, president, remarked that the Mothers Club was established in 1935. On June 15, 1937, the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay issued a Certificate of Registration #2 to the Mothers Circle. The local Mothers Circle was the second group to be certified in the DeMolay organization. Fifty members were listed on the local Mothers Circle roster at the time of the certification. These members were May Braden, Bessie Carly, Violet Cease, Caroline Davis, Esther Emmert, Arthur Evans, Anna Fosseick, Abbie Fox, Susie Galloway, Melba George, Edna Gowan, Nancy Greenwood, Amelia Griffiths, Margaret Harlan, Helen Harrison, Bessie Henley, Laura Hill, Jane Hind, Nellie Hodge, Mary Ann Holland, Mary Hodshire, Leila Johnson, Anna Jones, Elizabeth Jones, Carmel Kato, Margaret Kennedy, Ellen King, Victoria Kohl, Gertrude Lile, Clara Love, Lena Massie, Anna Mueller, Gusta Pendleton, Mabel Rayburn, Leila Rosenburg, Ethel A. Rouland, Beulah Rupp, Mae Robertson, Clara Summerton, Verna Stuart, Elsie Stuart, Ida Trottler, C.R. Turner, Grace Varnum, Gladys Waggoner, Leta Ward, Sadie Welby, Etta Wilson and Ida Wood.

Verna Stuart, charter member, known as "Aunt Verna," was responsible for the club's beginning and is still an active member. The club was first named "Granite City DeMolay Mothers Circle" and later changed to "Granite City DeMolay Mothers Club." In 1939 the DeMolay chapter changed its name to James Stuart Chapter in memory of Chapter Advisor James "Uncle Jimmy" Stuart. Later the club changed its name to Mothers Club, James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

The purpose of the club is to support the DeMolay Chapter in their activities. The membership is open to women who are mothers, relatives or friends of young men in DeMolay.

President Meyer introduced the chapter advisor, Charles Meyer, who welcomed the past presidents, members and guests and spoke briefly on the history of the Mothers Club. He remarked that any success the chapter has had through the years was aided by the help of an active Mothers Club. Meyer then introduced the Master Councilor of the Chapter, Ralph McKinney Jr., who expressed his appreciation for the support of the Mothers Club. He introduced each of the DeMolays attending. They sang "Happy Birthday" to the club members.

Mrs. Meyer introduced Charlotte Root, Guardian of Bethel #43, who introduced their members of Jobs Daughters who entertained the Mothers Club. Those singing were Diane Kaitmyer, queen; Beth Barr; Paula Bille; Stacy Hahn; DeAnn Toenyes; Melanie Paschedag and Christy Dawson. A special meeting was held and it was announced there will be a special meeting July 2 at 7:30 p.m.

The group attending donated $25 for an ad in the conclave ad book. The income from book sales will be used to reduce the DeMolay members' registration fees to conclave and reduce overall conclave costs.

An updated membership book was given to members and past presidents. A geranium plant was presented to each past president attending in appreciation of their continued support to the organization. Those attending were introduced and each made comments regarding activities during their term of office.

Mrs. Meyer introduced Mary Stuart, administrator of DeMolay Mothers Clubs in Illinois, who spoke to the group about the activities of the Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers.

Eagles Aerie initiates six new members

Six candidates for membership in the Eagles Aerie 1126 were initiated following a Father's Day dinner served at the Aerie hall by members of the Eagles Auxiliary.

New members included Donald Taylor, Robert Keltner, Aren Arneg, Michael Moran, Larry Hoffine and Bill Laycock.

After the dinner Vincene Zerlan, auxiliary president, gave Larry W. Barnhart, aerie president, and Gene McCall, Aerie Eagle of the Year, Father's Day gifts, a tradition at the dinner for over 70 years.

Barnhart and McCall thanked Zerlan for the gifts, and Barnhart said he hoped the aerie and auxiliary would continue to be a close working team on Eagle charity fundraisers during his term as president.

Members of the interviewing committee for the group were Lou Tense, Rod Bailey and Jack Orwig, and the initiating (ritual) team included Harold Love, Larry Barnhart, Bud Shaffer, Don Horn, Bob Stanton and Pat McKinney.

President Barnhart presided at the session and Bob Stanton, conclave officer, led the members in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, followed by the presentation of the Bible and Eagle emblem.

The opening prayer was offered by Don Horn, followed by the roll call of officers by John Aubuchon and Stanton, which included Larry Barnhart - president, Harold Love - junior past worthy president, Bud Shaffer - vice president, Horn - chaplain, Stanton - conductor, Gene Ligibel - pro-tem, Pat McKinney - inside guard, Aubuchon - secretary, Mel Havron - treasurer, and trustees Chris Von-Nida, Greg McCall and Larry Patton Sr.

Love announced that new members Bill Laycock and Larry W.

Hoffine were initiated into the Granite City Eagles the previous Sunday at the District 7 meeting. Love announced John Piper, District 7 director, had declared the office of inside guard vacant, and then appointed Bud Shaffer of Granite City as the new inside guard for the district.

A thank-you letter was read from the Auxiliary Escort Team and President Vincene Zerlan for the help the Aerie trustees had given them before they left for the 37th Illinois State Auxiliary Convention held in Marion, Ill.

Randy Odom read a letter from the Grand Aerie explaining that all Aerie officers for the new year will receive a copy of the Eagle Leader publication for the next 12 months if they sign up one member within the next two months. He also read a letter from Charles Knox, Illinois State Aerie vice president, explaining that he and his wife, Rose, will make ceramic Eagle steins to be awarded to any Eagle member who signs up three members during the summer membership months of June, July or August.

Love represented the local Eagles Home at the Auxiliary State Convention and said the Granite City Auxiliary won many awards for their ritual team, visual aids, Helen Lipchik, auxiliary publicity chairman, took first place in Illinois for the second year for her publicity book.

Odom, chairman of the Eagles Bass Anglers Club, announced the July bass tournament will be held at the Shelbyville Lake. There are still openings for membership in the bass club.

President Barnhart closed the meeting after the closing ceremony conducted by Don Horn, Harold Love and Bud Shaffer.

Harbor to close for VP Fair

For safety reasons, the U.S. Coast Guard will close the St. Louis Harbor between the MacArthur and Martin Luther King bridges during the fifth annual Villed Prophet Fair, scheduled from July 4 to 7.

Coast Guard officials said the harbor will be closed from noon to 2 p.m., 6 to 7:30 p.m. and 9 to 10 p.m. Thursday, July 4; from 1 to 3 p.m. and 9:30 to 10 p.m. Friday, July 5; from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., 4:30 to 6 p.m. and 10 to 10:30 p.m. Saturday, July 6; and from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., 4 to 5:30 p.m. and 9 to 10 p.m. Sunday, July 7.

The Coast Guard will patrol the St. Louis Harbor to insure the safe completion of activities. Water vessel operators should contact the Coast Guard when nearing the vicinity of mile 177 and mile 185 Upper Mississippi River before entering the area of the closures, officials advise. This can be done on Channel 16 under the call sign "Sumac Control" for passing instructions.

To allow ingress and egress of Pool 26 by Coast Guard Auxiliary and pleasure crafts, special lockages will be made through the auxiliary chamber at Locks No. 26 (in Alton) and the main chamber at Locks No. 27 (in Granite City) on July 4 through 8.

MHC scholarships announced

At the June meeting of the Mexican Honorary Commission, President Robert Robles Sr. read a letter from Charles King, president of the Granite City Scholarship Foundation. King noted 24 students received scholarship grants.

Five of the grants were donated by the M.H.C. and of this number, two of the recipients chosen by the Granite City Scholarship Foundation were children of M.H.C. club members. Scholarships were awarded to Joe Donaldson, Linda Valencia, Linda Dupont, Timothy B. Gray and Michael Lewis.

Robles, chairman of the September Fiesta, reported that he has signed Los Amigos Orchestra to play for the fiesta to be held Sept. 7 at the M.H.C. Hall. Theresa Ybarra will be chairman of the kitchen committee. Lenay Lore the door committee and Vicki Stitch and Cathy Moore will serve as program directors. Stitch told the membership that the fiesta dancers will be performing more frequently in the future. She said during the month of June, they were scheduled to dance at General American, Colonades Nursing Home and the Hispanic Fair at Jefferson Barracks.

Geraldo Magdaleno was enrolled as a new member. Re-initiated were Joseph Valdez, Tony Ybarra, Rufus Valencia and Robert Galvin. The membership chairman then introduced new applicants Joe Donaldson, Sheila Blankley and Barbara Martin. Donaldson, a scholarship recipient, thanked the membership for his scholarship and said he was going to study in the computer and psychology fields.

The membership approved the posthumous awarding of a plaque to Pete Metcalfe in recognition of his efforts and work for the M.H.C. Metcalfe was active in club activities, as well as in community affairs. The membership then approved the reinitiating of the "Amigo of the Year" award, to be given in recognition of exceptional work for the M.H.C. It will be presented at the Cinco De Mayo Fiesta.

In other action, members voted a cash donation to the March of Dimes, and President Robles announced the appointment of Theresa Ybarra as corresponding secretary. After all committees had given their reports, the meeting was adjourned and dinner was served by Amy Donaldson and Lynn Walthers. The business for the July meeting will be Theresa Ybarra.

ROOF USED FOR ENTRY

The Other Place, 2442 Madison Ave., was burglarized on June 24, it was reported. The owner of the shop is Don Jones. Entry was made by removing a wind-driven turbine on the roof and then climbing through the hole to a storage area. From there, a wall leading into the tavern was torn. Nothing was reported missing at the time of the report.

Roofing licenses due Sept. 30

Roofing contractors required by a new Illinois law to be licensed with the state will have until Sept. 30 to comply with the law, according to the Illinois Department of Registration and Education (DRE).

Although the effective date of the Illinois Roofing Industry Licensing Act is July 1, DRE Director Gary L. Clayton explained the department has allowed a three-month grace period because legislative efforts to amend the law this spring have delayed implementation of the act.

"Changes in the new law were introduced this spring in the General Assembly and the department could not begin implementing the law until we knew whether, and how, the law was going to be changed," Clayton said.

The act requires anyone engaged in the roofing contracting business to register with the Department of Registration and Education, and to provide proof of public liability insurance and Workers' Compensation Insurance. The registrant also must be bonded and must obtain an Illinois Unemployment Insurance employer identification number.

Roofing contractors and firms who have contracted the department about becoming licensed will soon be receiving applications and other information. Those who have not contacted the department are asked to do so that the necessary information may be sent. They may call 1-217-785-0842 or write the Department of Registration and Education, 320 West Washington Street, Springfield, Ill. 62786.

$200 STEREO TAKEN

A $200 stereo receiver was taken in a burglary at the home of Skip and Wanda Fuller, 2431r Adams St., June 19. Entry was gained by forcing open a window.

'The Seven Year Itch' opens SIUE's summer theater

WHAT HAVE WE HERE? David Holt wonders about the relationship between John Leonard and Bethany Hanson in a moment from the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Theater Summer Show Biz '85 production of "The Seven Year Itch," which plays in the Communications Building theater on the Edwardsville campus at 8:15 p.m. on July 3, 5, 6 and 7.

George Alexrod's comedy, "The Seven Year Itch," will open the Summer Show Biz '85 series of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Theater with its premiere on Wednesday, July 3. The curtain goes up at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Additional performances will be presented at the same time and place on Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6, with a closing show on Sunday, July 7, at 7 p.m.

After a long run on Broadway, "The Seven Year Itch" became one of Marilyn Monroe's best-known films. It focuses on the plight of a middle-aged publishing executive in New York. After seven years of marriage, he becomes consumed with anxiety about being "over-the-hill" and "sliding down fast."

David Holt plays Richard Sherman, the leading character, and Cheri Muschany (both from St. Louis) is "The Girl" from whom he seeks therapy and comfort. Holt is currently working in the professional actor, training program at Southern Methodist University; Muschany is majoring in radio and television at SIUE.

The major supporting roles are taken by Bethany Hanson as Helen Sherman, Stewart Skelton as the psychoanalyst, Dr. Brubaker, and John R. Leonard as Tom McKenzie (all from St. Louis).

The women of Richard's dreams take form in Stephanie Strohman (Edwardsville) as Miss Morris, Melissa Bollinger as Elaine, and Kathie Lynn Williams (both from Roxana) as Marie.

The production is directed by Lynn F. Kluth, professor of theater in SIUE's department of theater and dance. John Naccarato, a professional currently serving as artist-in-residence with the Northwestern University department of theater, designed the sets.

Joyce Kogut, who has worked professionally with theater staffs at Florissant Valley and Forest Park

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

In the past, various individuals have contacted this office wondering whether they could be held liable if someone came on their property without an invitation and was injured. In particular, many have been concerned about children playing on their property without permission.

In one recent case, a family moved into a trailer park which had a brick building one thousand to two thousand feet from the park itself. The children from the trailer park often played in the area where the building was located, and the owners of the park made no attempt to keep the children away. In 1981, one of the children from the park and two of his friends began trying to knock the brick building down. They repeatedly beat against the walls for three days in an effort to cause the building to collapse.

After three days of beating on the walls of the deserted building, the three boys realized that the building was about to collapse. Two of the boys managed to escape from the building, but the roof collapsed and killed the third youngster. A wrongful death action was subsequently brought by the mother of the deceased.

The question here is whether the property owners can be held responsible for the child's death. The Illinois Supreme Court has held in earlier cases that a property owner is under no duty to keep their premises in any particular condition to promote the safety of those who come upon the land without an invitation. One exception to this general rule, however, exists where the owner knows that young children frequently go into an area which is dangerous and which is likely to cause injury to the children. In such a situation, if the children are not capable of appreciating the risk and if the expense of remedying the condition is slight, the owner of the land will be required to remove the dangerous condition.

The question which is raised by the case discussed above is whether such a "dangerous condition" existed by reason of the old brick building at the trailer park. The Court in this case refused to hold the landowners liable because the building was an obvious risk of which the boys were apparently aware. The Court noted that it was the misuse of the building that in fact caused the death of the child.
